VIOLINIST HAROLDI IS GENUINE ARTIST

Charms Great Throngs at Saltair; Will Play Again Wednesday.

The success of the concert appearance at Saltair yesterday of Ignas Haroldi, the noted Pollsh violinist, induced the management to arrange a return engagement, hence Salt Lakers will have another opportunity of hearing him next Wednesday evening at the same place The work of the visiting artist-and artist he is-was accorded enthusiastic artist he is—was accorded enthusiastic applause, and recall after recall was demanded. Throughout the entire programme the large crowd was held by the magnificent music of the violinist. The presence of local violinists and music students was especially noticeable, and in each instance they were leaders in the applause.

each instance they were leaders in the applause.

The programme was varied, giving the performer an opportunity of displaying his versatility and musicianship. Although the acoustics of the pavilion were not in favor of the violinist, the forte and plano passages were rendered with equally telling effect and the magnificent tone of the instrument was demonstrated to fine advantage. That Harold is an artist of the first class and that his work is of high order was the verdict of crite's and laymen alike. The programme for Wednesday will include three of the numbers played yesterday by special request, and in addition some of the most brilliant selections in the artist's repertoire.

After the recital last evening Haroldi was entertained at a luncheon at the Hotel Utah by Profs. Willard Weihe and John J. McClellan. Haroldi was teacher of Miss Helen Hartley of this city while she was studying in New York last year. Miss Hartley, with a number of musical friends, entertained the Haroldi party, which includes Mrs. Haroldi and Rudolph Polak, the accompanist, at Saltair during the afternoon.
